Graduate Handbook Amendment #1

Title: change to the 515 requirement for Ph.D. students in 2013-2014 Graduate Handbook

Description of Amendment:

Amendment #1 is to reflect the change to the 515 requirement for Ph.D. student which was discussed and approved at the Geography Department's faculty meeting on Tuesday, August 20th, 2013. The change is amended to the 2013-2014 Graduate Handbook as follows:

"Ph.D. students are required to take at least one course between Geography 515 (Topics in Quantitative Geography) and GEOG 516 (Topics in Qualitative Methods)".

This change is in effect this semester – Fall 2013. Note that M.S. and Ph.D. graduate students are still required to take Geography 415 (Quantitative Methods). This requirement is already in the handbook, there is no change to it.
